About me

My name is Luca Chiandoni, and I am a freelance photographer based in northern Italy.

In the dynamic world of events, capturing the essence and energy of each moment is essential to conveying the uniqueness of an experience to the audience.

It's not just about documentation.

Every event (even the seemingly most mundane one) is a lived adventure, built on human connections, and deserves to be told through evocative images that leave a lasting impression over time.

Through my photographic style, I strive to engage and convey the empathy I feel for the subjects of my shots, prioritizing genuine emotion over staged poses.

Services

I am specialized in reportage of cultural, music and cinematic events and festival collaborating with web agencies and cultural associations.

Corporate photography for events, trade fairs and industry workshops.

Product photography, interiors and corporate portraits to renew personal branding and corporate communication.

I like to be as discreet as possible, capturing both big moments and intimatest details;
every moment becomes a memory and deserves to be valued.

I am a very curious person and I try to constantly dedicate time learning and experimenting in a profession that allows me to express deep and complex feelings.
